ARTHUR AND JAMES.

BY BARRY PAIN.

Arthur Wilberforce Soames was a boy with straight, black hair, a pleasing expression, and spectacles with round glasses. Seen with the sunlight on those glasses, he looked like a cross between a rat and a motor car. All the same, he was a good boy. His last school report said: "Very good. Always attentive and industrious. Has won the conduct prize."

Arthur Wilberforce Soames procured this report, had it framed neatly, and hung it up by his bedside.

"Oh, Arthur!" said his Aunt Agatha, "I am afraid this is vanity."

"I've just put it there," said the boy, "to remind myself how much more kindly my dear masters have spoken of me than I have ever deserved, and to stimulate me to fresh efforts."

He also decorated his room with a photograph of himself as a choir boy, in a surplice, with his spectacles off and the whites of his eyes showing considerably. He had a bookshelf which was entirely devoted to those volume which had been awarded to him as prizes for pure unremitting goodness.

"If that dear boy is spared to us," said his Aunt Agatha, "he will be an archbishop."

But it is a good proverb which says that if you give a dog a good name you may as well hang him. Arthur Wilberforce Soames had a very good name indeed, and a similar fate befell him. He had made the fatal mistake of showing people what he could do when he liked; he had provided a milk-white background on which the slightest error showed up dead black. Arthur Wilberforce Soames required that he should startle and surprise, and be received with enthusiasm; and all he got was a gentle approval.

He redoubled his effort. He went in for extra-special, high-pressure goodness, with the safety-valve screwed down. He took to forgiving his schoolfellows openly and ostentatiously, until they resented it. He spent a holiday in committing to memory voluntarily a hymn of exceptional length. He said that he wanted to be a missionary. He gave his pocket money to beggars whenever he could be sure of an audience. He wore himself out in his efforts to find novelties in goodness.

Now Arthur had a brother called James, who was untidy, unpunctual and unintentional. His life was a long series of rows, and he never had the faintest idea how he had got into them. The beautiful example of his brother Arthur had been held up to him in vain, though Arthur thoroughly enjoyed it. Finally, it seemed too absurd to expect that so bad a boy as James should even attempt to be as good as Arthur, and the practice dropped. Arthur threw out hints that James wanted a model to go by, if only a boy good enough could be found.

One day when Arthur had been vainly fishing for a little admiration, and was feeling particularly dejected, James happened to come in. From pure inadvertence—for no boy could have been more unintentional than James—he had not been whacked for a whole month. Either he had not given the occasion, or, which is more probable, chance had hindered the detection of the occasion. He mentioned it—more as one of those queer coincidences that might happen to anybody than with any idea of boasting. A scene of warmest enthusiasm followed. They spoke of James as if he were a hero and a saint; they gave James a shilling; they said James might keep a dog; they promised to take James to the pantomime at Christmas.

Aunt Agatha said it was one of the happiest days in her life. Arthur could endure it no longer; he retired from the room.

He broke into a violent passion and a neighbor's orchard. His methods with orchards were, from a total want of experience, so elementary that he was detected at once. He pleaded that, owing to his short sight, he had mistaken the orchard for a church. An ordinarily bad lie would have been believed, so perfect was Arthur Wilberforce's previous character; but this was too monumental. It made even the mild Aunt Agatha sarcastic. In justice to Arthur, it should be added, that he learned to tell very much better lies later on. You cannot, especially if handicapped by a saintly nature, expect to become a finished criminal in a moment. Nemo repente turpissimus fit. Or, as has been well observed, Rome was not built in a day.

For a month Arthur Wilberforce Soames was as bad as he could possibly be. It was against his nature, and, consequently, he showed no originality; he imitated slavishly the badness of the worst boys he knew or of whom he had read. He became the despair of his parents, the rage of his schoolmasters, the terror of his neighborhood, and an object of interest to the police. By this time he had got the background as black as it could be, and thought he would see how a little white would show up on it. He became good again, and the change brought him applause, affection, and presents, all of which he thoroughly enjoyed. He now lives in streaks; when his saintliness is not making its proper effect he puts in a little black background. And the moral of this is that there would be more virtue in the world if only we could show more sustained enthusiasm for it.—Black and White, London.

THE YOUNGEST PEERESS.

Lady Betty Bligh, Baroness of Clifton, Three Years Old, Has a Coronation Robe.

The youngest peeress of Great Britain who has the right to attend the coronation of King Edward is Lady "Betty" Bligh, now Baroness Clifton, daughter of the late seventh earl of Darnley and Jemima, countess of Darnley. Although the baby countess can be barely three years old, having been born in 1900, the same year in which her father died, she is having a coronation robe made for her on the lines of those of the other peeresses, and, owing to her extreme youth, she will without doubt be an object of much interest and attraction in the coronation show at Westminster. The father of Lady "Betty" was the sixteenth Baron Clifton and seventh earl of Darnley. He married Miss Jemima Blackwood, daughter of the late Francis J. L. Blackwood, niece of the present baronet of the name, and a relative of the duke of Manchester. The tiny countess comes of a distinguished lineage. She is seventeenth in succession from the first Baron Clifton. In the history of the family the right of succession has fallen to the women of the house about as many times as to the men.

BELGIANS HONOR MAY DAY.

The Subjects of King Leopold Celebrate the Arrival of the Month of Flowers Each Year.

The month of May is the most highly honored of the whole year by the Belgians. It is known as the virgin's month and consecrated to the Virgin Mary. In the province of Liege young maidens have a quaint way of predicting their love affairs this month. A group of girls arrange to meet at sunrise and start to walk through the fields until they come to a hedge, quite unobserved from the highway, where they generally choose a honeysuckle bush beneath the protecting branches of which to perform their mystic operations.

Each maiden selects three blades of dew-laden grass, the tops of which she cuts to equal lengths, and to each of which she attaches a colored silken thread. Black represents a bacholer, red an unknown lover and green the secret desires of the maiden's heart. Ten days afterward they return to the same spot where they left the blades growing, and that blade of the three chosen which has surpassed the others in height reveals the lover the maiden is destined to have.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

A Problem in Which the Gentler Sex Have Long Been Interested.

The problem of how to keep young or how to keep from looking old, has engaged the thoughts of both men and women ever since the world began. Women especially have shown a deep interest in the vexatious matter, for their influence with men has always depended much on physical freshness and beauty. Numerous writers have contributed their views as to defying the riddle of the ravages of time. The latest well-known writer to discuss on the familiar theme is Max O'Rell. Without giving a recipe for the preservation of beauty, M. Blouet, drops many useful hints as to the causes which lead to the unnaturally early disappearance of youth in some people. Bad temper and a lack of humor are, in his opinion, the two greatest enemies of youth and beauty. Max O'Rell thinks that with the aid of a sense of humor and good temper a woman can be young and beautiful until 50. After 50 he can offer no advice on the subject.

Mica Veil for Automobilists.

The only successful substitute for the ugly goggles worn by automobilists are said to be a veil of mica invented by a Parisian milliner. It is intended for the use of ladies who object to the disfiguring effect of goggles. A sheet of mica in the form of a vizor, set close to the face, is attached to the cap. It is a great improvement over the ordinary devices for protecting the eyes.

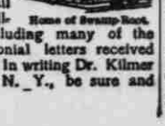

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

PLUCK OF KING EDWARD.

Has Bravely Endured Much Physical Suffering in Order to Please His People.

"Of all the soldiers the king has decorated within the last three years of the war for bravery in the face of the enemy none deserves the Cross for Valor more than himself, who grimly and silently faced disease and death, unarmed and without a comrade," says Richard Harding Davis, in Collier's Weekly.

"For now that the whole dramatic, pitiful story is out, England learns—now that it is too late—of the days of gnawing pain when her king forced himself to smile and bow at court, to watch a horse race, to review a regiment, to drive through London with an assured and cheerful countenance. It is not pleasant to think of the torture of those days, of the mental anxiety as well as the bodily torment, when the king kept on his feet against the protests of his physicians, when his endurance was tested by hours of unceasing pain—pain so great that it is not decent to disclose it. Nor is it pleasant to remember that last drive through the park to Buckingham palace, when the people for some reason failed to cheer him heartily, while all the time he sat erect, pale and with set teeth, holding himself upright only by his will, and that they might be gratified."

A Haven for Burglars.

Hopkinsville is a haven for burglars, judging from the fact that two occured there Wednesday night week, both the victims being physicians. Dr. J. B. Jackson was the last victim, the other one being mentioned elsewhere. His house was entered two nights successively, the first time they got $45 cash, but were scared away the second night before they got anything.

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Cranfill, of Troy, I. T., writes: For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol, and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat.

Wanted to Kill Somebody, and Did.

At the mouth of Wolf Creek, in Martin county, "Bad Jeff Evans" shot and almost instantly killed Preston Pauley a week ago. Evans and Pauley had been together at the former's house. Evans was drunk, and when Pauley started home Evans followed with a shotgun. Pauley asked him what he wanted, and Evans said: "I want to kill a man, and it might as well be you."

Evans fired, and 14 shots penetrated Pauley's bowels. Evans escaped to the mountains of West Virginia, and is still in hiding.

Pauley is Evans' third victim in less than a year.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Circuit Court Clerk.

HOLLON.—We are authorized to announce I. R. HOLLON as a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk of Wolfe County, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

HANKS.—We are authorized to announce JAMES HANKS as a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk of Wolfe County, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

For Legislative Representative.

PIERATT.—We are authorized to announce H. F. PIERATT as a candidate for the office of Representative in the Legislature from the 91st District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

EDITORIAL+ERUPTIONS.

JIMMIE HANKS, as will be seen by reference to our announcement department, aspires to the office of Circuit Court Clerk. Being the son of that wheel-horse of Democracy, C. C. Hanks, a long time Sheriff of this county, and himself a simon pure Democrat with no scratch upon his escutcheon, anything we might say by way of encomium would be superfluous. He has never before asked for office, but in every election since he arrived at his majority he has worked diligently for the success of the Democratic nominees, and never the night so dark or the day so cold but he was riding in behalf of some friend that was an aspirant for office. Now, he wants a slice of the chicken pie, the size of the Circuit Clerkship, and asks you to consider his claims. That he is worthy and would prove faithful is beyond question, and it is no disparagement to his opponent to say that he would make a polite, painstaking official.

THE CAMPTON COURIER asks: "Why vote for Hopkins for Congress?" Are there any reasons?" Why, sure, sonny, there are oodlin's of reasons: The people want a man of brains; a man who, in law-making assemblies has attested his abilty with the learned of the land; a man who, having toiled with the people, knows and would ameliorate their condition; a farmer who, living among farmers, would legislate in their favor; a man who, true to his constituents, must needs oppose trusts and all who foster them; a man who, compared with his opponent, is an intellectual giant beside whom Goliah would be a pigmy; a man who, reared a Democrat, has ever been faithful to the teachings of the founder of our independence. Such a man is Frank A. Hopkins, and such are a few of hundreds of reasons why he should be sent to Congress.

A GOOD joke is being told in Brooks, Ind., by a certain reporter there. On a recent evening he went to report a party at a home blessed with a new baby. He met the hostess at the door, and after the usual salutation, asked after the baby's health. The lady, who was quite deaf, thought he was asking about her cold, and answered that, although she usually had one every other winter, this was the worst one that she ever had; kept her awake nights a good deal and at first confined her to her bed. Then, noticing that the newspaper man was getting nervous, she said that she could tell by his looks that he was going to have one just like hers, and invited him to come in and sit down.

CANADA gets her anthracite coal from Pennsylvania—or rather she did get it. The strike has left a shortage of fuel which in this northern climate is being severely felt. This condition has resulted in a boom for peat fuel. Canada abounds in peat bogs, but hitherto this low form of fuel has not been resorted to much, as coal was preferred. Peat compressed into bricks makes a very good fuel, but the process of drying is the part that is costly.

THE elevator which carries visitors 555 feet to top of Washington monument, Washington, D. C., has stopped running on account of the lack of coal. Hard coal commands $12 to $15 a ton and soft coal $4.50 to $5 in Washington.

THERE will now have to be another court of inquiry. Gen. Joe Wheeler and Gen. Corbin have returned. Gen Wheeler says that French artillery is the best, and Corbin claims that Germany has the best.

oooo

A WORLD'S record for motor vehicles was made at Norwood, Mass., by two men on a motor tandem, who covered one mile straightaway in 44 2-5 seconds. The report did not say how many persons were killed.

oooo

THE great J. Pierpont Morgan is now after Roosevelt, and says he must not be nominated in 1904. He will have time to form a political trust before the national conventions are held.

oooo

DURING the last decade the population of the United States has doubled, wealth has doubled, business has doubled, and the price of coal has more than doubled.

oooo

SOME Republicans are now reporting that Bryan was recently pulled from a railroad wreck and that he had a copy of the '96 platform in his hand.

oooo

INSTEAD of giving $100,000 for an Episcopal Cathedral in Manila, Morgan would have done better to buy some coal for the people of the United States.

GREATEST FAMILY WEEKLY

Eczema

How it reddens the skin, itches, oozes, dries and scales!

Some people call it tetter, milk crust or salt rheum.

The suffering from it is sometimes intense; local applications are resorted to—they mitigate, but cannot cure.

It proceeds from humors inherited or acquired and persists until these have been removed.

positively removes them, has radically and permanently cured the worst cases, and is without an equal for all cutaneous eruptions.

Hood's Pills are the best cathartic. Price 25 cents.

A X mark shows that your time is up, and unless you renew at once you may not get the paper next week.

Hon. W. O. Mize is attending the Court of Claims, in session at Campton.

Mrs. Mattie Henry, of West Liberty, is visiting Charley Cecil and family near town.

WEAK STOMACH is strengthened and toned by Hood's Sarsaparilla,—the medicine that cures dyspepsia and POOR APPETITE.

Mesdames John Curtin and Wash Swango, of Maytown, and S. C. Alexander, of Daysboro, were here Wednesday shopping, and the Day Millinery had the greatest attraction for them.

Mat Sloan sends us a short time subscription from Castle de Little, at Campton, accompanied by some notes concerning that bastile, but they are such a tangle that we can not unravel them.

For Constipation

Take Lyon's Laxative Syrup; an ideal remedy for ladies and children, as it is pleasant to take and perfectly harmless under all circumstances. Price 25c

Sold by J. C. Stamper, Grassy Creek

Our friends must overlook our short comings this week because we have been wrestling with chills, indigestion, etc. We have worked both late and early, however, and tried to make a paper.

A gentleman who incidentally dropped in on the Court of Claims at Campton Tuesday says there was "a wow an' a wumpus" over the poor house farm, and considerable talk pro and con.

THE HERALD and Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is only $1.25 for 12 months; with Weekly Enquirer for same time $1.35. And now is the time to subscribe. tf

A noted healer in town. Mountain Herb Salve cures cuts, burns, tetter, chapped hands, etc., and is guaranteed to cure or no pay. For sale by T. Gordon Wells, Hazel Green, Ky.

Judge Swango sends very encouraging news about little Myrtle Davis. One eye is almost completely restored, and Dr. Reynolds thinks the other will soon be in a normal condition again.

See the ad of Louis & Gus Straus, in which they direct especial attention to their great fall opening of ready-to-wear clothing from the celebrated Alfred Benjamin & Co., fine woolens in tailoring department, etc.

Send 35c and get a free trial of Wilson's Morphine Cure; tested for 14 years and always successful. Send to CORP. WILSON, Calvert, Texas. f:30-y

T. Gordon Wells has our thanks for a box of his famous Mountain Herb Salve, and this is an appropriate occasion to call attention to his advertisement of Mountain Herb Tonic, etc., which will be found elsewhere. Read it.

The citizens of our town would place us under lasting obligations if they would report to us all the news—visitors to or from a distance; the doings of former citizens, as gleaned from correspondence; marriages, births, deaths, quiltings, &c.

The many friends of Crockett Coldiron will regret to hear that he is confined to his bed with fever of a very malignant form. He was sick some time ago but rallied and was going about, when he was stricken with a relapse, in the coils of which he still remains.

The poor house farm bought by the county some time ago will be sold again. At least that is what a gentleman tells us is proposed. He says Squire Taylor offered a resolution to that effect and that the same was spread upon the records of the Court of Claims.

L. J. Dunning, of Petersburg, Ind., has formed a partnership with John H. Rose, and is now in Cincinnati buying machinery to equip the shop. Among the things he will buy will be a gasoline engine, a lathe, etc. In short the new machinery, added to what Mr. Rose already has will give them a first-class, up-to-date shop, with the facilities to do work quickly and of ample capacity for all the custom this country will afford. With such a shop and two master mechanics, as they are, to conduct it, there will be no occasion for any citizen within a radius of 25 miles to go anywhere other than Hazel Green for vehicles of any kind, repairs for machinery, etc. Indeed it would be foolish for any one to do so, for the reason that the work here will cost much less than elsewhere. With the patronage this country could and should give them, this firm will soon be a big success. From now on every wagon, at least, bought within the circle above described should bear the names Rose & Dunning, which will encourage home enterprise and at the same time be a guarantee of honest material and the best mechanical skill in workmanship.

A letter from Rev. H. D. Adams, who is now in Kansas, written to his family a few days since, brings the news that he is much pleased with the people and the country. He had so far considered no proposition, but he is still preaching and hopes to have a call soon. He thinks he and his family could be very comfortable there.

Mrs. Mary Davenport, of Georgetown, is visiting Mrs. J. Taylor Day, for the the first time in some years. Prior to her marriage, as Miss Mary Davies, she was music teacher at the academy, and the affianced of a very dear friend of ours, suddenly tragically deceased, the pathetic story of which is well remembered by many of our town people.

The blood is the life. Therefore keep it pure. That bad, tired feeling means that your system is run down and you need rich red blood to make you feel like yourself again. One bottle of Mountain Herb Blood Tonic will do the work. Put up and for sale by T. Gordon Wells, Hazel Green, Ky.

Sam Wilson is this week painting Taylor Day's Frost Woods property on the hill, now occupied as a residence by Nelse Nickell and family. A few days since he finished a room in varnish at Mrs. John Ward's, which is like the college inside, and is still a hunger.

Remitting for back dues and for a year ahead, our old friend, J. B. Hollon, asks us to send his paper to Lee City, where he is running the Allen Hotel and feeding the hungry, a vocation for which he is eminently fitted by his experience at the Combs House, Campton.

STOPS PAIN

Athens, Tenn., Jan. 27, 1901.

Ever since the first appearance of my menses they were very irregular and I suffered with great pain in my hips, back, stomach and legs, with terrible bearing down pains in the abdomen. During the past month I have been taking Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and I passed the monthly period without pain for the first time in years. NANNIE DAVIS.

What is life worth to a woman suffering like Nannie Davis suffered? Yet there are women in thousands of homes to-day who are bearing those terrible menstrual pains in silence. If you are one of these we want to say that this same will bring you permanent relief. Console yourself with the knowledge that 1,000,000 women have been completely cured by Wine of Cardui. These women suffered from leucorrhoea, irregular menses, headache, backache, and bearing down pains. Wine of Cardui will stop all these aches and pains for you. Purchase a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui to-day and take it in the privacy of your home.

That unlucky boy, Butler Cox, was on Stillwater Sunday with his best girl.

Quite a number of our boys have gone to Lee City to work in the stave woods.

Crit Back, of Jackson, and many others of Breathitt, attended the funeral meeting here Sunday.

The infant child of Lee Taylor and wife, and the infant child of W. B. Rose and wife are very sick.

I. R. Hollon and James Hanks, of Campton, were out this way Sunday shaking hands with the boys.

A very large crowd attended the funeral of Hardin Hurst Sunday. Revs. Center and Wheeler delivered very interesting discourses.

Sept 29. PRESTO.

LEE CITY LACONICS.

John P. Simer made a business trip to Jackson last week.

Roy and Hardin Hurst of Landsaw, were here Sunday to see their best girls.

A Mr. Miller was arrested here last Wednesday for getting on No. 34 while in motion.

Chas. Scott, G. P. & F. A., of Lexington, passed through here last Wednesday on the O. & K.

J. D. Overley, the railroad agent here, is off on vacation for a few weeks. He was relieved by Asa Rose.

J. R. Wells, Helah Rose and Robert Rose left here last Friday morning to attend Teachers' Association at Hazel Green.

Misses Mahala Rose and Nannie Graham attended church on Gillmore Sunday. They report an enjoyable time, of course, for their fellows accompanied them home.

Edward Hoagland, the L. & E. car repairer, passed through the city last Tuesday en route to Cannel City. He is said to be a champion base ball pitcher and plays pitch just as well.

We have a splendid school at this place and are proud to say that it has been a success from the very beginning. Our teacher, Jas. R. Wells deserves just praise for the efforts he has put forth here.

About dark last Saturday there was a number of shots fired just above R. M. Elam's residence. Will Clear, who lives just above Mr. Elam, reports that two shots were fired into his house. He gets his gun and goes out, returning same for same, and the gentlemen not being loaded for bear, ceased shooting and took to their heels.

Rev. W. T. Morgan delivered his farewell sermon here last Sunday. A large crowd attended, among them being two Misses Taulbee from Frozen, and John P. Simer and a Miss Garinger from this place. On Monday morning Mr. Morgan bid us adieu, but he is going to stop at Elkatawa. What for? To get married. Then he and his bride expect to go to Cincinnati and make that place their home.

CAMPTON COURIER.

BEN SEWELL, EDITOR. VOLUME I.—NUMBER 12.

EDITORAIL EFFUSIONS.

WHY vote for F. A. Hopkins for Congress? Has any reason been given why? Common sense tells you that you should not vote for him. He stands for all that is odious in local and state politics. He favors free-trade—the getter of hard times, breeder of distrust, the builder of starvation souphouses. Vote for him, if you want to. He favors surrendering the Philippine Islands to the heartless land-grabbers of other countries. He favors the heresies of Bryanism. His ideas are populistic and if put into force in the policy of the government would result in financial depression, business standstill, and some more Coxey armies marching over the country on a hunt for bread and butter and employment. Now, if it is your patriotic duty to vote for him, do so. Otherwise vote for a continuance of the present splendid prosperoustimes given you by a Republican administration.

THE Republican party believes the trust question will, and should be, solved by the easy going, business-like process of evolution, while the Democratic party believes that it should be solved by the smashup and teardown of revolution. The Republican believes the trusts should be punished according to their bad conduct; the Democratic party believes they should be punished according to the pile of money they make. After all it is but a plain business matter, and it remains to be seen what party the voters will trust to solve the question.

SOME Democrats say that President Roosevelt is not sincere in his crusade against the trusts; that he does not mean what he says, but is playing a game of hypocricy. Yet the American people, not hardened in partisan prejudice, admit that Teddy is the foremost citizen of the land in point of strenuousness, courage, honesty, sincerity and aggressiveness. Teddy is nerve to the backbone and will carry out his purposes—but, mark the prediction: he will never get any help from Democrats in regulating the trust question.

A TRUST may own a trillion dollars. There is no evil in this fact alone. The evil comes in the way this money is handled. It would be revolutionary for the government to specify the purposes this money may be put, but it would be wise and business like for the government to specify the purposes for which it shall not be put.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Supt. J. W. Taulbee, of Daysboro, was here Monday.

Virgie Sewell, daughter of ye editor and wife, has got the mumps.

Rev. J. H. Pence preached a very interesting sermon at the M. E. Church here Sunday.

The school at this place is a glittering success in every respect Prof. Clarke and his assistants are wide-awake, energetic, up-to-date teachers.

County Court convened here on Monday, with his honor, Judge, J. W. Congleton, on the bench. C. C. Fulks did well his part wielding the sledgehammer as County Attorney.

The CAMPTON COURIER wants to report all sorts of social events, such as quilting parties, frolics, balls, weddings, etc. Its editor will be pleased to get a tip on all such events.

Our progressive, public spirited, enterprising Board of Town Trustees are having a very handsome rock bridge constructed across one of the placid streams that flows through our city. This will add materially to the "substantiality" of the city.

A. Drake on Monday handed ye editor a bright silver dollar to be entered as a credit on his subscription to THE HERALD. Mr. Drake has been a subscriber to THE HERALD from its first issue. THE HERALD hopes to gladden his heart many years to come. Who will be next to make our hearts throb with joy by handing us a dollar?

On Oct. 1st Mrs. A. C. Byrd celebrated the 62nd anniversary of her birth by setting a dinner, to which several specially chosen friends were invited. We noticed the following in attendance: Mesdames Millie Rose, Nannie Center, Elizabeth Tutt, Lydia J. Stamper, Sarah Stamper, Nannie Frye, Sarah Sewell, Lou Ellen Chambers, Millie Byrd, Junia Byrd, Docia Byrd and Messers W. L. Byrd, Wm. Byrd, J. J. Chambers and ye editor The table groaned and squeaked under the good things to eat. All present enjoyed themselves immensely and hope to be present each year at birthday celebrations many years to come.

A. B. Cox, of Boxer, graced Campton with his dignity of personal appearance on Sunday and Monday last. He informed ye editor, with tears in his eyes, that he has re-entered the field as a candidate for matrimony, and is "sure to be elected this time." We hope the boys will have mercy on Butler, and not give him any opposition this time, as he is a merry young soul and evidenced his courage in more love battles than one. At present Butler is in the cannel coal business on Frozen Creek, and is having very good success.

Several Camptonites attended the funeral of Uncle Hardin Hurst on Stillwater last Sunday. Among them we gather the following: Capt. W. L. Hurst, wife and their family, Cæsar, Minnie and Sallie; John Lacy, Willie Stamper, Claude Stamper, Dr. W. G. Lockhart, Isaac Rose, Josie Napier, Mollie Sherman, Emma Stamper, Edith Stamper, Arzelia Rose, Rinda Rose, W. S. Tutt and wife and J. B. Little and wife. There might have been others from here in attendance, but we failed to get their names, if so.

Judge Congleton has opened up his heart and handed ye editor one gold-standard silver dollar, with the request that THE HERALD be sent one year to his popular, unmarried brother, W. C. Congleton, of Paulina, Oregon. Thank you, Judge—and THE HERALD shall be sent as per your order; but if your brother comes to Kentucky again and undertakes to return to Oregon without first having had some rites of matrimony solemnized in the sight of God he will be spanked.

Oct. 1st, born to the wife of Circuit Clerk J. F. Vansant, a Bryan-Redwine-Pieratt-Johnson-Carlisle-Cleveland Democratic boy, name David Bryan Redwine. It is of the boss variety and destined to eclipse its father in fighting the political "battles of the bosses." Selah!

A Dreadful Trio.

There are three common diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh and Consumption. The first and second commonly go hand in hand, and some times the third joins them—a dreadful trio!

Why call attention to them?

Simply to tell what will cure scrofula and catarrh and prevent consumption, according to incontrovertible evidence. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

In the fall the progress of these diseases is most rapid and we would advise that treatment with this great medicine be begun at once.

Powers' School Teacher.

Race Rider Gets $25,000 a Year.

Lucien Lyne, a young man who was born and reared near Lexington, now ranks as the leading race rider of America. During the nine months of this year ending Oct. 1, he had 550 mounts, out of which he won 109 races, and his mounts have been 173 times in the money, he finishing 44 times second and 20 times third. He has signed a contract with J. R. and F. P. King, of New York, to ride for them in England next year, for which they pay him $15,000 and privilege of outside mounts, which will bring his salary to $25,000 a year—half as much as the President gets.

It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. Kentucky Admiral Dead.

Rear Admiral James E. Jouett, U. S. N., aged 74, retired, died at his home, the Anchorage, Sandy Spring, Maryland, at an early hour Wednesday of last week. He was born in Kentucky and was appointed in the navy from that state. He was retired in 1890. The funeral was held Friday and the burial in Arlington was with full military honors. Admiral Dewey and Senator Blackburn were among the invited pallbearers.

Forty Years' Torture.

To be relieved from a torturing disease after 40 years' torture might well cause the gratitude of anyone. That is what DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve did for C. Haney, Geneva, O. He says: "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of piles after I had suffered 40 years." Cures cuts, burns, wounds, skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits.

Major Thomas Ill.

With great regret we notice in the Lexington papers that our old friend Major B. G. Thomas, the famous Kentuckian and breeder of race horses, whose health has been poor for sometime, was very ill on the 1st inst. He had two physicians with him for 24 hours, but he rallied, and anxiety was temporarily allayed. Still, owing to his advanced age, his many friends are fearful of the worst.

Out of Death's Jaws.

Railroad Shops at Danville.

The Louisville and Atlantic railroad shops, which are being built at Danville, are nearly completed. Several thousand dollars worth of machinery has been put in, and work will soon begin, giving employment to 50 and adding 250 to the town's population.

Look Out For Fever.

Biliousness and liver disorders at this season may be prevented by cleansing the system with DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills do not gripe. They move the bowels gently, but copiously, and by reason of their tonic properties, give tone and strength to the glands.

The Loaded Lamp Again.

Mrs. W. H .Stafford, wife of one of Carrol county's largest farmers, was horribly burned at her home near Sanders. She was carrying a lamp from one room to another, when it exploded, igniting her dress. She lingered in great pain until 3 o'clock Thursday morning, when she died.

Handsome Building Sites.

Courtney McGuire has nine very handsome building lots for sale, and an early applicant can buy one or more of them dirt cheap. They are located on College Avenue, a new street recently opened, and on Broadway extended, about 100 yards from the new academy, and are, therefore, the most eligibly located building sites in our town, to say nothing of individual merit. For dimensions, price, etc., write him at Clay City.

A FAIRY TALE OF INDUSTRY.

Interesting Facts About the Great Transformation Scene to Sault Ste. Marie.

Few people have any notion of the stupendous operations going on at Sault Ste. Marie, the little Canadian village on the shores of Lake Superior, where an industrial center of enormous magnitude is now being created by the energies of one man. "Harnessing Lake Superior" is the title of an article in Pearson's, which gives this remarkable story: "Five years ago the sleepy little Canadian town of Sault Ste. Marie numbered 2,500 inhabitants. Past its doors the surplus waters of Lake Superior, mightiest of inland oceans, emptied into Lake Huron. Untold millions of horse power energy lay latent in their idly flowing eddies, but only the slow-turning wheels of a few old flour mills stood to mark their commercial usefulness, while but an occasional steamer or a paddle propelled canoe disturbed the tranquil surface. Almost as in a night a metamorphosis has taken place.

"Where once was a scattered group of village dwellings, great stone buildings, with towers and shafts and connecting passageways, now stand, and at their base deep-dug canals wind in and out, spanned by bridges of massive stone. Nine thousand workmen now earn their livings in the shops at Sault Ste. Marie, beside the site where five years ago the total population was but a quarter of that number. It is a truly wonderful story, this story of the growth of the little frontier town into a great industrial centre; and its story is the history of the career of one man—Francis H. Clergue."

GOOD FOR JEWELERS.

Ping-Pong Is Said to Be Hard on Watches and the Repairer Will Profit.

"Ping-pong is a fine game," said a jeweler, who does a lot of repairing, to a Sun man. "No outdoor or indoor sport has ever given us so much to do. It is surprising how many persons have broken their watches since the game became a fad, says the New York Sun.

"You see, people play the game without removing their coats or waistcoats. In the excitement they forget about their watches, and the first thing a man knows his timepiece bounds out of his pocket. Sometimes it strikes the table, but wherever it does fall the watch is damaged.

"That is not all. A player may tie his watch to his pocket, but still it gets out of gear. The constant jumping around and the swinging of the arms disturbs the works so the watch has to be brought to us to be regulated.

"I have had as many women's watches as men's to repair. The women are even more careless than the men. Their watches dangle from their shirt waists, and as a result the watch jumps around like a weathercock in a gale of wind.

"Surprising as it may seem, my income from repairing watches has almost tripled since the craze of ping-pong began."

SAXONY'S ECCENTRIC KING.

Interesting Stories Are Told of the Peculiar Habits of the Former Ruler.

The newspapers have lately been full of incident of the life of the deceased king of Saxony, but they are mostly connected with his public military career. Of his private life little is told except that in its extreme simplicity it resembled closely that of Emperor William I.

It is reported that King Albert had a rooted objection to exchanging his old clothes for new ones, and it was only with great difficulty that his groom of the chamber could persuade him to have a new coat tried on. One day when he had just undergone the torment of having clothes tried on, the king happened to pass through the famous hall of the knights, in the Dresden palace. Looking up at the figures of the mail-clad knights, he said, with a deep sigh: "What a good time the old knights had in their iron armor; they were troubled with no creases."

A retired captain of the Saxony army, whom everybody knew as being under his wife's thumb, applied for permission to wear his old uniform on special occasions. The king wrote on the margin of the application: "I am quite willing, if his wife permits it."

Child Crushed to Death.

A sad accident occurred at Salt Lick, Bath county. An upright piano had been moved to the home of Emery Caldwell and left in the yard on rollers. A three-year-old son of Mr. Caldwell, playing when no one was near, pried out one of the rollers, when the piano and box, weighing 850 pounds, fell upon the child, crushing it so that it died several hours later. The child's head was the only part of the body that was not horribly crushed.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

His Life in Peril.

"I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Bee, of Welfare, Tex., "biliousness and a lame back had made life a burden. I couldn't eat or sleep and felt almost too worn out to work when I began to use Electric Bitters, but they worked wonders. Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work." They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, rundown people. Try them. Only 50c. at J. T. Every person interested in the science of Government should be interested in the election in these states. Much valuable information can be gained by a study of the political conditions involved in the elections to be held in these three states.
